Market Square Arena

Market Square Arena, built by the city of Indianapolis and completed in 1974, is one of the premier sports and entertainment showplaces in the midwest.

The building was designed by Kennedy, Brown and Associates and constructed by Huber, Hunt and Nichols, Inc. Ground breaking ceremonies were held Oct. 20, 1971, and Sept. 15, 1974, the building was officially opened. The Pacers fell to San Antonio, 129-121, in double overtime in their first appearance in the building on Oct. 18, 1974.

Five nights later, Oct. 23, 1974, saw Indiana take its first victory in its "new" home as the Pacers dumped the Spirits of St. Louis, 122-107.

Market Square Arena highlights include the 1980 NCAA basketball semifinals and finals; the 1978 and 1979 NCAA basketball Mid-East Regionals; NBA's All-Star Saturday in 1985; the annual Indiana state high school basketball and wrestling championships; Elvis Presley's last concert on June 26, 1977; 1982 National Sports Festival; and 1987 Pan American Games basketball competition.

Site of countless sports and spectator events including circuses, rodeos, ice shows, major concerts, tennis and hockey, MSA has a seating capacity for concerts of 18,250; the same for boxing; 16,530 for basketball and 16,000 for hockey. All seats in the circular arena are free from posts and other obstructions of view. Prior to the 1984-85 NBA season, MSA underwent major reconstruction to include the most modern in handicap provisions and in 1988 a new animated color scoreboard and video replay screens were added.

The finest in dining is provided at Market Square Gardens restaurant, located on the seventh level on the west side of the building.

Donnie Walsh

President

When Donnie Walsh was named general manager of the Indiana Pacers in April, 1986, his goal was to establish a solid franchise and build a world championship team. With a highly competent front office and continual improvement on and off the court, the Pacers are well on their way. Consider these accomplishments:

- The Pacers have averaged 39 victories a season in the last seven seasons, up from 25 wins a year in the five previous years. For the first time in the club's history, the Pacers have qualified for the NBA playoffs for four consecutive years.
- Attendance in Market Square Arena has reached all-time highs, with home averages for each of the last seven seasons among the franchise's top seven averages.
- In 1988, Walsh was named president of the Indiana Pacers Corporation, which not only runs the Pacers, but directs the management of Market Square Arena.

Walsh, an assistant coach for the Pacers for two years before taking the G.M. position, began his coaching career after playing four years of basketball at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. For three seasons (1958-1961), he played under Frank McGuire (who directed the Tar Heels to the 1957 NCAA title). He played his senior season for then first-year head coach Dean Smith and was awarded Most Inspirational Player of the Year by the team.

After earning a bachelor of arts degree in Political Science from UNC, Walsh attended the North Carolina Law School where he was the associate editor of the Law Review. While in law school, he helped coach the Tar Heel freshman team for two seasons. Although he had offers to join then former vice president Richard Nixon's law firm in New York and the U.S. Justice Department's Honors programs, Walsh turned them down to take a graduate coaching position under Smith at UNC.

A year later, Walsh became the associate head coach under McGuire at the University of South Carolina and held that position for 12 years. In 1977, he passed the Bar Exam and was about to enter private practice when Denver Nuggets Coach Larry Brown, Walsh's running mate at guard at UNC, asked him to join the Nuggets' staff as an assistant coach. In that position for only a year and a half, Walsh took over the head coaching spot following Brown's resignation in February, 1979. He guided the Nuggets to a 19-10 record in the last two months of that season and ended his two years as head coach with a 60-82 record.

Following his stay in Denver, he went into private business, but returned to coaching when George Irvine was named head coach of the Pacers in the summer of 1984. Walsh then joined the Pacers as an assistant coach.

Walsh is a member of the U.S. Olympic Games committee for men's basketball, which selected the gold-medal winning "Dream Team" and coaching staff, as well as the current USA Basketball teams. He serves on the boards of many Indianapolis charities.

He and his wife Judy, both natives of New York, have five children and live in Indianapolis.

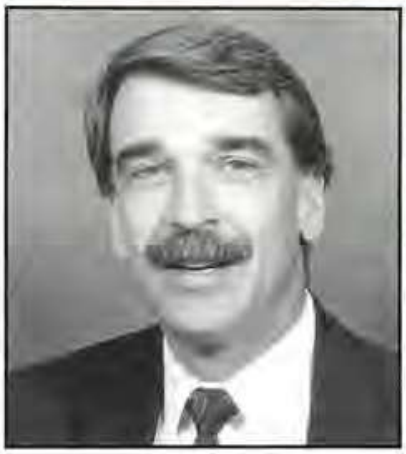
George Irvine



Vice President
Basketball Operations

In his 13th year on the Pacers staff, George Irvine has served the franchise as head coach, assistant coach, scout and now as vice president of basketball operations. From budgets to scouting, he keeps the administrative aspects of the team under control. With an expertise in scouting, Irvine scrutinizes college, CBA, European and current NBA players as potential players for the Pacers.

As the Pacers' head coach on two occasions (1984-86 and on an interim basis for part of 1988-89), he compiled a record of 54-130. Irvine joined the Pacers in 1980 as an assistant coach to Jack McKinney. After holding that position for three years, he took over the Pacers' draft efforts as vice president/director of basketball operations.

A native of Seattle, Irvine graduated from the University of Washington in 1970 and was drafted in the third round by the Virginia Squires. After playing five seasons in the ABA as a guard/forward, he played one season with the Denver Nuggets. When a chronic knee injury forced him to retire as a player, he switched gears and spent three years as a Nuggets' assistant coach under Larry Brown and Pacers President Donnie Walsh.

Irvine has two sons, Toby and Jaime, and lives in Carmel.

Dale Ratermann

Vice President
Administration and Media Relations

Dale Ratermann was promoted to vice president of administration in 1992 after spending six-and-a-half years as the club's media relations director. Ratermann is responsible for the administrative areas of the basketball, business and Market Square Arena operations, in addition to his media relations duties.

Ratermann won the Howie McHugh/Marc Splaver Award, given to the outstanding public relations director in the NBA's Eastern Conference, five times.

Prior to joining the Pacers, Ratermann was the assistant sports information director at the University of Illinois for seven years. He graduated from Illinois in 1978 and attended graduate school at Arizona State University.

A native of Marion, Ill., Ratermann is single.

Bob Metelko

Chief Financial Officer

Bob Metelko joined the Pacers in November, 1984, as chief financial officer. Responsible for the finances of the Pacers and Market Square Arena, he oversees budgeting, cash management, financial reporting, insurance and employee benefits.

Metelko graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1967 with a degree in business administration and was drafted by the U.S. Army for a tour in the Finance Corps.

He moved to Houston in 1969 to work as staff auditor for Price Waterhouse, but left there in 1972 to join a small CPA firm in Greenwood, Ind. Metelko became a certified public accountant in 1973 and joined Merchants Bank as assistant controller a year later. He eventually became the vice president and controller before leaving to join the Pacers front office.

Originally from Lincoln, Ill., Metelko is married (Belinda) and has three children.

Coaches

Larry Brown

Head Coach

Larry Brown may have a reputation as a vagabond coach, but more importantly he has a reputation as a winner. In his 20 seasons as a head coach his teams have posted a .500 or better 19 times. The only time he did not reach the .500 level was an injury riddled season in San Antonio. In his first full season in Los Angeles, he led the Clippers to their second straight 40-win season and their second plåyoff appearance in a row. The team had never accomplished those feats since moving from Buffalo in 1978. Brown has had at least a .500 record in 20 of 21 seasons as a head coach at either the pro (ABA & NBA) or college levels. The Clippers assist-to-turnover ratio of 1.68-to-1 ranked seventh in the NBA and their steals-to-turnover ratio of 0.63-to-1 rated as fifth best in the league.

Brown joined the Spurs in 1988 and led a franchise turnaround. San Antonio struggled to a 21-61 record in his first season. That team suffered through numerous injuries and saw 22 different players wear the Spurs uniform. At one point, three of the Spurs' starters (Alvin Robertson, Johnny Dawkins and Frank Brickowski) were all on the injured list at the same time. In 1989-90, the Spurs made an NBA record improvement as they won 56 games and the Midwest Division title. That team broke the record previously held by the 1981-82 New Jersey Nets, also coached by Brown, that made a 20-win swing from the previous season. The Spurs also won the division in 1990-91 with a mark of 55-27. In 1982-83, his Nets were on their way to a club record 49-33 season when he left with just six games to play to take the head coaching position at the University of Kansas. He moved into the NBA with the Denver Nuggets and led them to the Midwest Division title in their first season there, 1976-77. They also won the division in 1977-78 and were 28-25 when he resigned in 1979. He was succeeded by Donnie Walsh, who was his assistant.

In seven seasons as a coach in the college ranks, his teams made three trips to the Final Four and were in the NCAA Tournament all seven seasons. In 1979-80, the UCLA Bruins were 22-10 in Brown's first season as coach. In 1980-81, UCLA reached the Final Four played in Indianapolis, but lost to Louisville in the Championship Game, 59-54. He took over the reins at Kansas in 1983. In that first season, the Jayhawks were 22-10, but won the Big Eight post-season tournament. The 1984-85 Jayhawks finished the season with a record of 26-8 and were ousted from the NCAA Tournament in the second round by an Auburn team that was led by former Pacer Chuck Person. In 1985-86, Kansas posted a school-best record of 35-4 and was eliminated in the Final Four by Duke. In Brown's last season (1987-88) in Lawrence, the Jayhawks were 27-11 and won the NCAA title by defeating Big Eight rival Oklahoma, 83-79, in the final game.

He led the league in assists in each of its first three seasons. He led the New Orleans Buccaneers to a Western Division-best 48-30 record in 1967-68, the league's first. He handed out 6.5 apg and scored 13.4 ppg in that campaign. He handed out 7.1 apg and scored 12.0 ppg in 1968-69 as he helped the Oakland Oaks to the ABA title. He averaged 5.4 apg and 14.0 ppg in the 1968-69 playoffs. He also averaged 7.1 apg in 1969-70, to lead the league. He holds the ABA record for most assists in a game with 23 vs. Pittsburgh, 2/20/72. He averaged 11.2 points per game in five seasons as a player, including a high of 13.7 ppg in 1969-70. He becomes the third former Olympian on the Pacer roster as he was on the 1964 gold-medal winning U.S.A. team. He played amateur basketball in Akron, Ohio for two years after graduating from North Carolina and then spent two seasons as an assistant coach with the Tar Heels, before signing with New Orleans.

An avid golfer and runner, he has three daughters, Kristen, Alli and Melissa.

NBA Terminology

Active List

The maximum number of active players is 12; the minimum is 11. At no time shall a team be permitted to dress fewer than eight players for a regular season game or nine for a playoff game. During the off-season and training camp, teams may carry no more than 20 active players.

Injured List

When a player on the Playing Roster is unable, due to injury or illness, to perform his duties, his name may be transferred from the Active List to the Injured List. Any player placed on the Injured List, who is replaced on his team's Active List, must sit out at least five of his team's regular season games before he may be restored to the Active List. No more than three players may be on a team's Injured List at any one time.

Ten-Day Contract

On or after the 55th day following the first game, a team may sign a player to a 10-day contract. This procedure may be used only to replace a player assigned to the Injured List. No player may be signed to more than two 10-day contracts with the same team.

Trading Deadline

No trades are permitted after 9 p.m. (EST) on the 16th Thursday of the regular season (that's Feb. 24 this season). From that point until the end of the regular season, player additions must be made through the waiver procedure or by signing free agents.

Waivers

From August 15 to the end of the regular season, clubs may claim waived players within 48 hours after notice. Players waived at any other time, may be claimed within 10 days. If no team claims the waived player, he becomes a free agent. If more than one team claims a waived player, the one with the lesser record at that time claims the player. The cost for a waived player is $1,000, payable to the League.

Guaranteed Contracts

On the 56th day of the regular season, all player contracts become guaranteed for the remainder of the season.

Renunciation of Amateur Eligibility

A person whose high school class has graduated and is at least 17 years old shall become eligible for the College Draft if he renounces his intercollegiate basketball eligibility by written notice to the NBA at least 45 days prior to the draft. Prior to 45 days before the draft, teams may not make direct or indirect contact with players who have eligibility remaining. Teams may contact players without remaining eligibility, but may not discuss compensation.

Salary Cap

The salary cap for the 1993-94 season is $15,175,000 per team.

NBA Community Relations Programs

NBA STAY in SCHOOL™

NBA DON'T FOUL OUT

Say No to drugs.

The NBA, its teams, players and coaches share a commitment to supporting and improving the quality of life in their communities. On the national and local levels, the NBA and its 27 teams are involved in many public service initiatives.

Since 1989, the NBA and the National Basketball Players Association have worked together to address the drop-out crisis through the NBA Stay in School program. Created to urge students to graduate from high school, the program uses the popularity of NBA players and coaches to stress the importance of attitude, attendance and achievement in school, and to encourage young people to develop pride and self-esteem. NBA Hall of Famer Bob Lanier serves as National Chairman of the NBA Stay in School program.

Through public service announcements on TV and radio and other awareness-building programs, the NBA and its players also support the work of the Special Olympics, CARE, the National Committee to Prevent Child Abuse, and Operation Prom/Graduation, a program that encourages high school seniors to celebrate an alcohol-free prom and graduation season. The NBA creates PSA programs in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. in January and Black History Month each February, and has produced PSAs on behalf of the Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation to fight blindness. The league and its teams also address the importance of early detection in the treatment of breast cancer, in the "NBA Wives Save Lives" program.

As part of the many Indiana Pacers community relations projects, Mrs. Herb Simon and family present a Pacers' autographed basketball to the former president of the Soviet Union, Mikhail Gorbachev.
